The assignment after reading: Do a one-paragraph reflection . Give your opinion of the book; avoid offering only a simple statement of like or dislike. Instead, be specific and support your opinion with examples from the book.

All students will take an AR test by Friday of the first week of school.

Still confused about reflection? Here are some helpful tips:

- *What insights have you gained from the reading?
- *What are the limitations (not so great moments) of the reading and why?
- *How does the text or ideas presented in the text relate to you?
- *Did the reading make you question or think about something else?
- *What questions were you left with after reading?
- *Did you agree or disagree with what was written? Why or why not?
